UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CASE NO. 8:18-cv-02223-JLS-JDE

IN RE: HYUNDAI AND KIA ENGINE
LITIGATION II

ORDER (1) GRANTING PLAINTIFFS’ MOTION FOR CERTIFICATION OF A SETTLEMENT CLASS, MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS SETTLEMENT, AND ORDER DIRECTING NOTICE TO THE CLASS
(Doc. 79); AND (2) SETTING A FINAL FAIRNESS HEARING

1 Before the Court is Plaintiffs’ unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class
 2 Action Settlement. (Mot., Doc. 79; Notice of Non-Opposition, Doc. 81.) For the reasons 3 set forth below, the Court now GRANTS the Motion and sets a Final Fairness Hearing for 4 September 8, 2023, at 10:30 a.m. The parties should carefully review and comply with 5 the conditions of this Order.

6 7 I. BACKGROUND

8 This putative nationwide class action is brought on behalf of purchasers of various 9 Hyundai and Kia vehicles (Class Vehicles). All Class Vehicles were equipped with either 10 multipoint fuel injection (“MPI”) or gasoline direct injection (“GDI”) engines: the Theta II 11 2.4-liter MPI engine, the 1.6-liter Gamma GDI engine, or the 2.0-liter Nu GDI engine.
 12 (Consolidated Class Action Complaint (“CAC”), Doc. 72 ¶ 101.) Certain Hyundai and 13 Kia vehicles, Plaintiffs allege, contain an engine defect that causes an “unacceptable risk 14 of engine failure and spontaneous engine stalling and fire while driving.” (Id. ¶ 2.) 15 Specifically, Plaintiffs allege that, “due to an improper manufacturing and machining 16 process,” connecting rod bearings in Class Vehicle engines “undergo prolonged failure” 17 and eventually begin to fracture, causing “large amounts of metal debris ... to accumulate 18 in the engine oil.” (Id. ¶ 107.) This contaminated engine oil can result in catastrophic 19 engine failure and engine compartment fire. (Id. ¶¶ 107-110.) Plaintiffs are purchasers of 20 Class Vehicles containing the alleged engine defect, and many of them experienced 21 catastrophic engine failure and/or fire. (Id. ¶¶ 6, 17-87.) Defendants Hyundai Motor 22 Company, Hyundai Motor America (“HMA”), Kia America Inc. (“KA”), and Kia
 23 Corporation manufacture and sell the Class Vehicles. (Id. ¶¶ 88-100.)

24 This litigation stems from an earlier case, In re: Hyundai and Kia Engine Litigation
 25 (“Engine I”), No. 8:17-cv-00838 (C.D. Cal.), concerning vehicles equipped with Theta II 26 GDI engines containing a similar alleged defect, which reached final settlement in May 27 2021. (Mot. at 11.) While litigating Engine I, Plaintiffs’ counsel received reports 28 regarding engine failures and fires in other engines, leading to the instant litigation. (Id.)

The following cases were consolidated into this action: Flaherty v. Hyundai Motor Co., No. 18-2223 (C.D. Cal.); Marbury v. Hyundai Motor America, No. 21-379 (C.D. Cal.); Thornhill v. Hyundai Motor Co., No. 21-481 (C.D. Cal.); Buettner v. Hyundai Motor America, Inc., No. 21-1057 (C.D. Cal.); Short v. Hyundai Motor America, No. 22-3498 (C.D. Cal.); and Chieco v. Kia Motors America Inc., No. 19-854 (C.D. Cal.). (See Sept. 8, 2021 Order, Doc. 55; Aug. 25, 2022 Order, Doc. 71; Sept. 22, 2022 Order, Doc. 77.)

The parties have reached a proposed settlement. The settlement class is defined as “[a]ll owners and lessees of a Class Vehicle who purchased or leased a Class Vehicle<sup>1</sup> in

- 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2015 model year Hyundai Sonata Hybrid (HEV) vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter multi-port fuel injection (“MPI”) engine;
- 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019 model year Hyundai Sonata Hybrid/Plug-In Hybrid (HEV/PHEV) vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter gasoline direct injection (“GDI”) engine;
- 2010, 2011, and 2012 model year Hyundai Santa Fe vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013 model year Hyundai Tucson vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021 model year Hyundai Tucson vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter GDI engine;
- 2014 model year Hyundai Elantra Coupe vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter GDI engine;
- 2014, 2015, and 2016 model year Hyundai Elantra vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter GDI engine;
- 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020 model year Hyundai Elantra GT vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter GDI engine; and
- 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, and 2017 model year Hyundai Veloster vehicles with a Gamma 1.6-liter GDI engine.

Class Vehicles also include the following Kia Class Vehicles:

- 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, and 2016 model year Kia Optima Hybrid (HEV) vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020 model year Kia Optima Hybrid (HEV/PHEV) vehicles with a Nu 2.0-liter GDI engine;
- 2011, 2012, and 2013 model year Kia Sorento vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2011, 2012, and 2013 model year Kia Sportage vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013 model year Kia Forte vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;
- 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013 model year Kia Forte Koup vehicles with a Theta II 2.4-liter MPI engine;

1 the United States, including those that were purchased while the owner was abroad on 2 active U.S. military duty, but excluding those purchased in U.S. territories and/or abroad.”
 3 (Settlement Agreement (“SA”), Doc. 79-2 § I.E.) Excluded from the class, and not 4 released by the settlement, are claims for death, personal injury, property damage (other 5 than to a Class Vehicle that is the subject of a Qualifying Repair), and subrogation. (Id.)

6 The main relief in the settlement comes in the form of 15-year or 150,000-mile 7 Extended Warranty coverage for “all costs associated with inspections and repairs, 8 including replacement parts, labor, diagnoses, and mechanical or cosmetic damage caused 9 by connecting rod bearing failure,” which will extend to all Class Vehicles that have 10 completed the Knock Sensor Detection System (“KSDS”) software update. (Mot. at 18.) 11 KSDS “refers to the engine monitoring technology developed by Defendants that, with 12 software innovations, leverages existing hardware on the subject Class Vehicles to 13 continuously monitor engine performance for symptoms that may precede connecting rod 14 bearing failure and engine failure that is being offered as a software update to Class 15 members free of charge pursuant to the product improvement campaigns” that Defendants 16 have already begun offering. (SA § I.P.) To be eligible for the Extended Warranty, Class 17 Vehicles must have the KSDS installed within 150 days of the Notice Date.<sup>2</sup> (Id. § I.Q.) 18 Class Vehicles may also be denied Extended Warranty for Exceptional Neglect, defined as 19 evidence of a failure to maintain or care for the engine within factory maintenance and

(Settlement Agreement, Doc. 79-2 § I.G.)

27 <sup>2</sup> The term Notice Date “refers to the date on which notice of the Settlement is disseminated.
 28 The Notice Date shall be the first business day after 120 days following the Court’s entry of an order preliminarily approving this Settlement.” (Id. § I.S.)

1 care specifications (unless such lack of maintenance was due to a Qualifying Failure<sup>3</sup> or 2 Qualifying Fire<sup>4</sup>) or service records demonstrate unacceptable gaps in regular oil changes.
 3 (Mot. at 18-19.) Defendants will provide a comparable class of loaner vehicle during any 4 repairs under the Extended Warranty, or, if a loaner is not available, up to $80 per day of 5 reimbursement for reasonable rental car expenses. (Id. at 19.)

6 Defendants have also initiated a number of recalls and KSDS product improvement 7 campaigns. (Id. at 19-20.) The settlement provides for full reimbursement for Qualifying 8 Repairs (“any completed repair, replacement, diagnosis, or inspection of the Class Vehicle 9 engine performed to address the following documented symptoms: hole-in-block (i.e., the 10 connecting rod punctures a hole in the engine block), engine seizure (unrelated to pre-11 existing oil consumption issues), or engine fire” (SA § I.EE)) for Class Vehicles within 15 12 years from the date of original retail delivery or first use or 150,000 miles and before

 14 <sup>3</sup> A Qualifying Failure “refers to an engine seizure, engine stall, or other vehicle incident, as 15 outlined in the definition of Qualifying Repair, short of an engine compartment fire, that would 16 otherwise be addressed by a Qualifying Repair, except where it was plainly unrelated to the engine 17 short block manufacturing issues (for example, a stall directly caused by a fuel pump, oxygen 18 sensor, timing, or the electrical system), due to Exceptional Neglect (or KSDS Installation 19 Neglect), or an investigation or inspection revealed an unrelated cause. An engine failure that 20 would otherwise be a ‘Qualifying Failure’ does not qualify where documentation shows the Class 21 Vehicle was involved in a moderate to severe front-end collision (i) within three months prior to the otherwise Qualifying Failure, or (ii) more than three months prior to the otherwise Qualifying Failure and there is evidence the vehicle component(s) essential for engine operation was improperly or never repaired, as validated by an inspection, diagnosis, or a CarFax report or similar third-party report. This exception will not apply if the front-end collision to the Class Vehicle was repaired at a Hyundai or Kia dealership.” (SA § I.CC.)

22 <sup>4</sup> A Qualifying Fire “refers to an engine compartment fire that would otherwise be addressed 23 by a Qualifying Repair, and excepting where the fire was plainly unrelated to the engine short 24 block manufacturing issues (for example, a fire caused solely and independently by a collision, 25 electrical, or fuel-related problems), due to Exceptional Neglect (or KSDS Installation Neglect), 26 there are indications the fire was caused by negligence, a third-party car part installed on the 27 vehicle was the cause of the fire, or an investigation or inspection revealed an unrelated cause.
 28 Loss that would otherwise be a ‘Qualifying Fire’ does not qualify where documentation shows the Class Vehicle was involved in a moderate to severe front-end collision (i) within three months prior to the otherwise Qualifying Fire, or (ii) more than three months prior to the otherwise Qualifying Fire and there is evidence the vehicle component(s) essential for engine operation was improperly or never repaired, as validated by a CarFax report or similar third-party report. This exception will not apply if the front-end collision to the Class Vehicle was repaired at a Hyundai or Kia dealership.” (SA § I.DD.)

1 receiving notice of the settlement. (Mot. at 20.) Class members can also be reimbursed
2 for towing or other out-of-pocket expenses reasonably related to obtaining a Qualifying 3 Repair and up to $80 per day for transportation if a loaner was not provided. (Id. at 21.) 4 For repair delays over sixty days, class members may seek goodwill payments of $75 for 5 delays lasting between 61 and 180 days, and goodwill payments of $100 for delays of 181 6 days or more, with an additional $100 payment for each thirty-day period of delay after 7 181 days. (Id.) Class members who experienced a Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire 8 while away from home can seek reimbursement for reasonably related transportation, 9 lodging, and meal expenses. (Id. at 23.) For each of these reimbursements, class members 10 must submit their claim forms and supporting documentation within ninety days of the 11 Final Approval Order. (Id. at 20, 22-24.)

12 Class members who experienced a Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire and sold or 13 traded-in their Class Vehicles before the Notice Date without first getting the 14 recommended repair can seek a $150 payment plus reimbursement of the baseline Black 15 Book value of the Class Vehicle at the time minus the actual amount received from the sale 16 or trade-in. (Id. at 24.) Claimants must submit their claim forms and supporting 17 documentation within ninety days of the Final Approval Order. (Id.) Class members 18 whose vehicles were destroyed in a Qualifying Fire within 15 years of delivery or 150,000 19 miles are entitled to a $150 goodwill payment plus the maximum Black Book value of the 20 Class Vehicle minus any value received for the vehicle. (Id. at 24-25.) Claimants must 21 submit a claim form and supporting documentation within ninety days of the Final 22 Approval Order for a Qualifying Fire occurring on or before the Notice Date, or within 23 ninety days after the Qualifying Fire occurred for a Qualifying Fire occurring after the 24 Notice Date. (Id. at 25.)

25 Class members are eligible for a rebate if they experience a Qualifying Failure or 26 Qualifying Fire, lose faith in their Class Vehicle because of the settlement, sell their Class 27 Vehicle in an arm's length sale or trade, and purchase a replacement Hyundai (for Hyundai 28 Class members) or Kia (for Kia Class members). (Id. at 25.) The rebate is calculated as

1 the difference between the value the claimant received at trade-in or sale and the maximum 2 Black Book value, up to “(a) $2,500 for model year 2010-2012 Class Vehicles; (b) $2,000
3 for model year 2013-2014 Class Vehicles; (c) $1,500 for model year 2015-2016 Class 4 Vehicles; and (d) $1,000 for model year 2017-2021 model year Class Vehicles.” (Id.) The 5 Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire must occur within 15 years or 150,000 miles to be 6 eligible for the rebate. (Id. at 25-26.) Claim forms and supporting documentation must be 7 submitted within ninety days of the Final Approval Order, where the Qualifying Failure or 8 Qualifying Fire occurred before the Notice Date) or within ninety days of the Qualifying 9 Failure or Qualifying Fire (for a Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire that occurred after 10 the Notice Date). (Id. at 26.)

11 Notice will be sent to class members via mail and email within 120 days after the 12 entry of this Order. (Id. at 26-27.) In the same time frame, Defendants will also provide a 13 copy of a Pamphlet designed to be kept with the owner’s manual of Class Vehicles to all 14 reasonably identifiable current owners or lessees of Class Vehicles. (Id. at 27.) Class 15 members who wish to object or exclude themselves must do so via mail no later than forty-16 five days after the Notice Date. (Id.) All members who do not exclude themselves will be 17 bound by a release applicable to all claims arising out of or relating to the claims asserted 18 in the CAC. (Id. at 27-28.) This does not include any claims for death, personal injury, 19 property damage (other than to a Class Vehicle), or subrogation. (Id. at 28.)

20 Plaintiffs asked the Court to preliminarily certify the settlement class, preliminarily 21 approve the proposed settlement, and order dissemination of the Class notice. On 22 December 14, 2022, the Court issued an Order requiring supplemental briefing to address 23 the following concerns: (1) whether Defendants would be self-administering the 24 settlement, and, if so, whether they could do so fairly, competently, efficiently, and 25 impartially; (2) why class members wishing to opt out of the settlement would be required 26 to do so via mail rather than via electronic submission; (3) how the proposed settlement 27 differs from the settlement reached in Engine I. (Order, Doc. 86.) The parties filed a Joint 28 Supplemental Brief in response on January 13, 2023. (Supp. Br., Doc. 94.)

As to the first issue, Hyundai intends to self-administer with the assistance of Sedgwick Claims Management, and Kia plans to retain Epiq Class Action & Claims Solution, Inc. to administer the settlement. (Supp. Br. at 2.) Regarding opt-out methods, the parties have agreed to permit class members to opt-out either online or by mail and have amended the Long-Form notices to inform class members that they may do so. (Id. at 10-11.) Finally, the parties provided the Court with a comparison of the proposed settlement with the settlement reached in Engine I. (See id. at 11-18; see also Doc. 94-8.) As discussed further infra, the Court finds that the parties have satisfactorily addressed its concerns.

II. CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION OF THE CLASS

Plaintiff requests that the Court preliminarily certify the proposed settlement class under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a) and 23(b)(3). “A party seeking class certification must satisfy the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a) and the requirements of at least one of the categories under Rule 23(b).” Wang v. Chinese Daily News, Inc., 737 F.3d 538, 542 (9th Cir. 2013). Rule 23(a) “requires a party seeking class certification to satisfy four requirements: numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy of representation.” Id. (citing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 349 (2011)). Rule 23(a) provides:

One or more members of a class may sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of all members only if:

- (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable;
- (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class;
- (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and
- (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.

1 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a). “If the court divides the class into subclasses . . . , then ‘each 2 subclass must independently meet the requirements for the maintenance of a class action.’” 3 Bates v. United Parcel Serv., 204 F.R.D. 440, 443 (N.D. Cal. 2001) (quoting Officers for 4 Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of City & Cnty. of S.F., 688 F.2d 615, 630 (9th Cir. 1982)).
 5 Here, other than which Defendant is administering the settlement, the settlement is 6 substantially identical for the Hyundai and Kia subclasses, so the Court’s consideration of 7 the requirements for certification is the same for both.

8 “Rule 23 does not set forth a mere pleading standard. A party seeking class 9 certification must affirmatively demonstrate his compliance with the Rule—that is, he 10 must be prepared to prove that there are in fact sufficiently numerous parties, common 11 questions of law or fact, etc.” Wal-Mart, 564 U.S. at 350. This requires a district court to 12 conduct a “rigorous analysis” that frequently “will entail some overlap with the merits of 13 the plaintiff’s underlying claim.” Id. at 350–51 (internal quotation marks omitted).

14 Additionally, “the proposed class must satisfy at least one of the three requirements 15 listed in Rule 23(b).” Id. at 345. Rule 23(b)(3) permits certification where “the court finds 16 that the questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any questions 17 affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available 18 methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

19 A. The Proposed Classes Meet All Rule 23(a) Requirements

20 The Class meets the requirements of Rule 23(a).

21 1. Numerosity

22 Rule 23(a)(1) requires that the class be “so numerous that joinder of all members is 23 impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). The proposed Class here includes owners or 24 lessees of more than 2.1 million Class Vehicles. (Mot. at 42.) The proposed class easily 25 meets the numerosity requirement.

26 2. Commonality

27 Rule 23(a)(2) requires that “there are questions of law or fact common to the class.”
 28 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). “Commonality requires the plaintiff to demonstrate that the class members have suffered the same injury.” Wal-Mart, 564 U.S. at 349–50 (quotations omitted). The plaintiff must allege that the class members’ injuries “depend upon a common contention” that is “capable of classwide resolution.” Id. at 350. In other words, the “determination of [the common contention’s] truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the validity of each one of the claims in one stroke.” Id. “What matters to class certification . . . is not the raising of common questions—even in droves—but rather, the capacity of a class-wide proceeding to generate common answers apt to drive the resolution of the litigation.” Id. (quotations omitted).

Plaintiffs state that the questions common to the entire class include:

- (i) whether the Class Vehicles’ engines all suffered the same risks arising from Defendants’ unreasonable acts and omissions in the manufacturing, production, and sale of the Class Vehicles;
- (ii) whether the defective engines can cause catastrophic engine failure and potentially result in engine fires; (iii) whether and when Defendants knew about the defective engines; (iv) whether a reasonable consumer would consider the defective engine and its consequences to be material; (v) whether the defective engine implicates safety concerns; and (vi) whether Defendants’ conduct violates the consumer protection statutes alleged, and the terms of their warranties.

(Mot. at 42-43.) These are the kinds of questions that courts in this Circuit have found capable of classwide resolution. See, e.g., Keegan v. Am. Honda Motor Co., Inc., 284 F.R.D. 504, 523-24 (C.D. Cal. 2012); Asghari v. Volkswagen Grp. of Am., Inc., No. 13-2529, 2015 WL 12732462, at *12 (C.D. Cal. May 29, 2015). The commonality requirement is satisfied.

3. Typicality

Rule 23(a)(3) requires “the claims or defenses of the representative parties [to be] typical of the claims or defenses of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3). “[U]nder the rule’s permissive standards, representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are reasonably coextensive with those of absent class members; they need not be substantially identical.” Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 603 F.3d 571, 613 (9th Cir. 2010) (en banc) (quoting

1 Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp, 150 F.3d 1011, 1020 (9th Cir. 1998)), overruled on other 2 grounds, Wal-Mart, 564 U.S. 338. As to the representative, “[t]ypicality requires that the 3 named plaintiffs be members of the class they represent.” Dukes, 603 F.3d at 613. The 4 commonality, typicality, and adequacy-of-representation requirements “tend to merge.”
 5 See Wal-Mart, 564 U.S. at 349 n.5.

6 Here, each of the named plaintiffs purchased a Class Vehicle containing the alleged 7 engine defect, so each suffered the same injury of purchasing the defective product.
 8 Typicality is met.

9 4. Adequacy

10 Rule 23(a)(4) permits certification of a class action only if “the representative 11 parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
 12 23(a)(4). “Resolution of two questions determines legal adequacy: (1) do the named 13 plaintiffs and their counsel have any conflicts of interest with other class members and 14 (2) will the named plaintiffs and their counsel prosecute the action vigorously on behalf of 15 the class?” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020.

16 As to the named plaintiffs, there are no apparent conflicts of interests between them 17 and the rest of the class. Courts recognize a potential conflict of interest between a named 18 plaintiff and the class where “there is a large difference between the enhancement award 19 and individual class member recovery.” Mansfield v. Sw. Airlines Co., No. 13-2337, 2015 20 WL 13651284, at *7 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 21, 2015). Here, the proposed service awards of 21 $5,000 for plaintiffs who have been deposed and $3,000 for those who have not (see Mot.
 22 at 32) are not so large as to create a potential conflict of interest. See Carlin v.
 23 DairyAmerica, Inc., 380 F. Supp. 3d 998, 1024 (E.D. Cal. 2019) (noting that “[i]n the 24 Ninth Circuit, courts have found that $5,000 is a presumptively reasonable service 25 award”). It appears that named plaintiffs’ interests are aligned with the rest of the class 26 and that they will continue to vigorously prosecute the action on the class’s behalf.

27 As to the adequacy of Class Counsel, the Court must consider “(i) the work counsel 28 has done in identifying or investigating potential claims in the action; (ii) counsel’s

1 experience in handling class actions, other complex litigation, and the types of claims 2 asserted in the action; (iii) counsel’s knowledge of the applicable law; and (iv) the 3 resources that counsel will commit to representing the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(A).

4 On September 8, 2021, the Court appointed Steve W. Berman of Hagens Berman
 5 and Matthew D. Schelkopf of Sauder Shelkopf as Interim co-Lead Counsel for the putative 6 class, and Gretchen Freeman Cappio of Keller Rohrback L.L.P. as Settlement Counsel.
 7 (Sept. 8 Order, Doc. 55.) Berman and his firm, Hagens Berman, “have significant 8 experience prosecuting consumer class actions against automotive companies, including 9 successful actions against Hyundai and Kia.” (Berman Decl., Doc. 79-1 ¶ 3.) Berman was 10 co-lead counsel in the Engine I litigation. (Id.) He was also co-lead counsel in another 11 Central District of California case which resulted in a settlement that was “valued at up to 12 $1.6 billion.” (Id.) Schelkopf has received multiple awards in recognition of his consumer 13 litigation work. (Schelkopf Decl., Doc. 79-4 ¶ 5.) He was also Class Counsel in Engine I.
 14 (Id. ¶ 6.) He has served as lead or co-lead counsel in a number of automotive class actions 15 in various district courts across the United States. (Id.) Cappio has experience in large-16 scale, multidistrict complex class action litigation, and is currently serving on two 17 Plaintiffs’ Steering Committees in automotive class actions and directing the Keller 18 Rohrback team as appointed co-lead counsel in a third. (Cappio Decl., Doc. 79-6 ¶ 4.)
 19 She has played a leadership role in at least seven complex or class action cases. (Id. ¶¶ 4-20 5.) Based on this experience, and the quality of counsels’ work to date, the Court 21 concludes that Berman, Schelkopf, and Cappio satisfy the adequacy requirement.

22 B. The Proposed Class Also Meets the Rule 23(b)(3) Requirements

23 Plaintiffs seek certification under Rule 23(b)(3). (Mot. at 44-45.) For the following 24 reasons, the Court finds that certification of the proposed Class is appropriate under Rule 25 23(b)(3).
 26

27 Under Rule 23(b)(3), a class action may be maintained if: “[1] the court finds that 28 the questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any questions

1 affecting only individual members, and [2] that a class action is superior to other available
 2 methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. R. 23(b)(3) 3 (emphasis added). When examining a class that seeks certification under Rule 23(b)(3), 4 the Court may consider:

- 5 (A) the class members’ interests in individually controlling the prosecution
- 6 or defense of separate actions;
- 7 (B) the extent and nature of any litigation concerning the controversy already
- 8 begun by or against class members;
- 9 (C) the desirability or undesirability of concentrating the litigation of the
- claims in the particular forum; and
- (D) the likely difficulties in managing a class action.<sup>[5]</sup>

10 Id. The Court finds that the proposed Class satisfies both the predominance and 11 superiority requirements.

12 1. Predominance

13 “[T]he predominance analysis under Rule 23(b)(3) focuses on the relationship 14 between the common and individual issues in the case, and tests whether the proposed 15 class is sufficiently cohesive to warrant adjudication by representation.” Abdullah v. U.S.
 16 Sec. Assocs., Inc., 731 F.3d 952, 964 (9th Cir. 2013) (quotations omitted). “Rule 23(b)(3) 17 requires [only] a showing that questions common to the class predominate, not that those 18 questions will be answered, on the merits, in favor of the class.” Id. (alteration in original).

19 Here, as discussed more generally above, Class Members’ claims allege a common 20 engine defect in various Class Vehicles which they allege defendants had knowledge of 21 and concealed. Questions which are common to the entire class include “whether the 22 Class Vehicles are similarly defective,” “whether Defendants had a duty to disclose any 23 resulting manufacturing or production issues,” “whether Defendants knowingly concealed 24 manufacturing or production issues,” and “whether one (or more) of these manufacturing

 26 <sup>5</sup> This factor is not relevant in the context of certification for settlement purposes. See 27 Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) (“Confronted with a request for 28 settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would present intractable management problems, for the proposal is that there be no trial.” (internal citation omitted)).

1 or production issues is a material fact.” (Mot. at 44.) It is “readily apparent” that these 2 classwide questions predominate over individual issues in the case. See Chamberlan v.
 3 Ford Motor Co., 402 F.3d 952, 962 (9th Cir. 2005); see also Alger v. FCA US LLC, 334
 4 F.R.D. 415, 427-28 (E.D. Cal. 2020); Falco v. Nissan N. Am. Inc., No. 13-686, 2016 WL 5 1327474, at *7-12 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 5, 2016).

6 2. Superiority

7 The Court also finds that a class action would be a superior method of adjudicating 8 Plaintiffs’ class claims. “The superiority inquiry under Rule 23(b)(3) requires 9 determination of whether the objectives of the particular class action procedure will be 10 achieved in the particular case.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1023. “This determination 11 necessarily involves a comparative evaluation of alternative mechanisms of dispute 12 resolution.” Id. Here, each member of the proposed Class pursuing a claim individually 13 would burden the judicial system and run afoul of Rule 23’s focus on efficiency and 14 judicial economy, especially because discovery would necessarily be duplicative of the 15 extensive discovery and investigation that has already been conducted. See Vinole v.
 16 Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., 571 F.3d 935, 946 (9th Cir. 2009) (“The overarching 17 focus remains whether trial by class representation would further the goals of efficiency 18 and judicial economy.”). As Plaintiffs argue, the settlement provides for resolution of the 19 defect and compensation for actual harm suffered for all class members. (Mot. at 45.)

20 In sum, having considered the non-exclusive factors set forth under Rule 23(b)(3), 21 the Court finds that class treatment here is superior to other methods of adjudication.
 22 Therefore, the Court concludes that the proposed Class may be certified under Rule 23 23(b)(3).

24 D. Rule 23(g) – Appointment of Class Counsel

25 Under Rule 23(g), “a court that certifies a class must appoint class counsel.” Fed.
 26 R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1). As discussed previously, the Court is satisfied that counsel, Steve W.
 27
 28

1 Berman, Matthew D. Schelkopf, and Gretchen Freeman Cappio are adequate and appoints 2 them as Class Counsel.

4 Having found that the proposed Class satisfies the elements of Rule 23(a) and 5 23(b)(3), the Court conditionally certifies the Class for settlement purposes only.

6 7 III. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS SETTLEMENT

9 To preliminarily approve a proposed class action settlement, Rule 23(e)(2) requires 10 the Court to determine whether the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate.
11 See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). Review of a proposed settlement typically proceeds in two 12 stages, with preliminary approval followed by a final fairness hearing. Federal Judicial 13 Center, Manual for Complex Litigation, § 21.632 (4th ed. 2004). “The decision to [grant 14 preliminary approval and] give notice of a proposed settlement to the class is an important 15 event. It should be based on a solid record supporting the conclusion that the proposed 16 settlement will likely earn final approval after notice and an opportunity to object.” Fed.
17 R. Civ. P. 23 advisory committee’s note to 2018 Amendment.

18 “To determine whether a settlement agreement meets these standards, a district 19 court must consider a number of factors, including: the strength of plaintiffs’ case; the risk, 20 expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class 21 action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of discovery 22 completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the experience and views of counsel; the 23 presence of a governmental participant<sup>[6]</sup>; and the reaction of the class members to the 24 proposed settlement.” Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 959 (9th Cir. 2003) (quotations 25 omitted). “The relative degree of importance to be attached to any particular factor will 26 depend upon and be dictated by the nature of the claim(s) advanced, the type(s) of relief 27

28 <sup>6</sup> This factor does not apply in this case.

1 sought, and the unique facts and circumstances presented by each individual case.”

2 Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625. “It is the settlement taken as a whole, rather than the 3 individual component parts, that must be examined for overall fairness, and the settlement 4 must stand or fall in its entirety.” Staton, 327 F.3d at 960 (cleaned up).

5 In addition to these factors, where “a settlement agreement is negotiated prior to 6 formal class certification,” the Court must also satisfy itself that “the settlement is not the 7 product of collusion among the negotiating parties.” In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab.
8 Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946–47 (9th Cir. 2011) (cleaned up). Accordingly, the Court must 9 look for explicit collusion and “more subtle signs that class counsel have allowed pursuit 10 of their own self-interests and that of certain class members to infect the negotiations.” Id.
11 at 947. Such signs include (1) “when counsel receive a disproportionate distribution of the 12 settlement,” (2) “when the parties negotiate a ‘clear sailing’ arrangement providing for the 13 payment of attorneys’ fees separate and apart from class funds,” and (3) “when the parties 14 arrange for fees not awarded to revert to defendants rather than be added to the class fund.”
15 Id. (quotations omitted).

16 At this preliminary stage, and because class members will receive an opportunity to 17 be heard on the settlement, “a full fairness analysis is unnecessary.” Alberto v. GMRI, 18 Inc., 252 F.R.D. 652, 665 (E.D. Cal. 2008). Instead, preliminary approval and notice of 19 the settlement terms to the proposed class are appropriate where “[1] the proposed 20 settlement appears to be the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, [2] 21 has no obvious deficiencies, [3] does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class 22 representatives or segments of the class, and [4] falls within the range of possible
23 approval[.]” In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007)
24 (quotations omitted) (emphasis added); see also Acosta v. Trans Union, LLC, 243 F.R.D.
25 377, 386 (C.D. Cal. 2007) (“To determine whether preliminary approval is appropriate, the 26 settlement need only be potentially fair, as the Court will make a final determination of its 27 adequacy at the hearing on Final Approval, after such time as any party has had a chance 28 to object and/or opt out.”).

1 Based on its analysis below of all applicable factors, the Court finds that the 2 Settlement Agreement should be preliminarily approved.

 4 A. Strength of Plaintiff's Case

5 Plaintiffs argue that they “are poised to prove Defendants violated numerous state 6 consumer protection statutes, breached state and federal warranty laws, and engaged in 7 fraud by failing to disclose a known safety defect that put consumers in avoidable danger 8 and caused them to incur expensive and lengthy repairs.” (Mot. at 34.) They allege that 9 their “ongoing investigations” have demonstrated that, despite Defendants’ claimed 10 improvements in design and manufacturing processes, additional models of vehicles 11 continue to be impacted by the defect. (Id.) Nevertheless, Plaintiffs’ co-lead and 12 settlement counsel assess that there are risks to proving liability. Defendants could argue a 13 lack of knowledge of the defect before some of the class vehicles were sold; they could 14 argue that some members of the class were not harmed because some Class Vehicles will 15 never manifest the defect and, for those that do, the KSDS will notify them in time to 16 prevent engine fire or failure; and they could argue that a Class Vehicle’s service history is 17 relevant to whether the engine fails, so certification under 23(b)(3) is inappropriate. (Id.) 18 Moreover, Plaintiffs note that even victory at trial would delay resolution and recovery for 19 years, making it more difficult to locate and compensate class members, and diminishing 20 the value of certain benefits from the proposed settlement, such as the Extended Warranty.
 21 (Id.) The Court finds that this factor weighs in favor of granting preliminary approval.

22
 23 B. Risk, Complexity, and Likely Duration of Further Litigation

24 Plaintiffs note that “Co-Lead Counsel and Settlement Counsel frequently litigate 25 automotive class actions that take years to resolve, while some have gone on for over a 26 decade with appeals.” (Mot. at 36.) They estimate that this case would not even reach trial 27 before 2024, which would delay recovery for class members and would also place class 28 members at risk of engine seizure or stalling, which the proposed settlement would notify

1 them about and permit them to address with free inspections and repairs. (Id.) In this case, 2 early resolution provides a benefit to class members that might not be present even if 3 Plaintiffs were ultimately to succeed at every stage of trial and post-trial litigation. This 4 factor therefore weighs in favor of granting preliminary approval. See Nat'l Rural 5 Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 526 (C.D. Cal. 2004) (“In most 6 situations, unless the settlement is clearly inadequate, its acceptance and approval are 7 preferable to lengthy and expensive litigation with uncertain results.”).

8 9 C. Risk of Obtaining and Maintaining Class Certification

10 As noted above, Defendants would almost certainly challenge class certification 11 were this case to proceed to trial. Plaintiffs contend that they “could marshal sufficient 12 evidence in support of” a motion for class certification, but acknowledge that, “instead of 13 resolving this litigation on a nationwide basis, Plaintiffs would likely only succeed in 14 certifying certain state classes, further reducing the scope of relief to the potential class.”
 15 (Mot. at 37.) The risk of opposition to class certification and the likelihood that the scope 16 of relief would be reduced weigh in favor of granting preliminary approval.

17 18 D. Amount or Type of Relief Offered in Settlement

19 The Court finds that the amount and type of relief offered in the settlement are 20 reasonable. The main relief in the proposed settlement is that Class Vehicles will receive 21 an Extended Warranty for free inspections and necessary repairs for fifteen years or 22 150,000 miles. (Mot. at 37.) Plaintiffs assert that the “proposed Settlement provides Class 23 members with largely everything Plaintiffs sought in their complaints.” (Id.) They note 24 that they initially sought lifetime warranties, but in conversations with the National 25 Highway Traffic Safety Administration (“NHTSA”) discovered that the NHTSA had a 26 concern that a “lifetime warranty could create a public safety risk by incentivizing 27 consumers to drive vehicles longer than their contemplated useful lives.” (Id.; see also 28 Latouf Decl., Doc. 81-1 ¶ 11.) Because Plaintiffs conceded the shorter warranty term, they

1 negotiated “increased benefits in other categories of settlement relief as compared to 2 Engine P” including a higher cap on rental car reimbursements; transportation, lodging, and 3 meal reimbursements for class members stranded away from home by a Qualifying Failure 4 or Qualifying Repair; and increased inconvenience payments for repair delays and 5 increased goodwill payments for Qualifying Fires and warranty repairs improperly denied 6 by Defendants. (Mot. at 38.)

7 Overall, the settlement provides nine categories of relief: (1) the Extended Warranty 8 described above; (2) recalls and product improvements of certain models; 9 (3) reimbursement for Qualifying Repairs at authorized dealerships and repair shops and 10 additional goodwill payments for class members denied in-warranty repair at authorized 11 dealerships; (4) repair-related transportation and towing reimbursements for Qualifying 12 Repairs; (5) goodwill payments for inconvenience due to repair delays; (6) reimbursement 13 for expenses related to transportation, lodging, and meals for class members stranded away 14 from home by a Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire; (7) reimbursement for lost value 15 plus a $150 payment for Class Vehicles sold or traded in after experiencing a Qualifying 16 Failure or Qualifying Fire before the notice date without receiving the recommended 17 repair; (8) goodwill payments of $150 plus reimbursement of the maximum Black Book 18 value of the Class Vehicle at the time of loss minus any value received for the vehicle for 19 Class Vehicles destroyed by a Qualifying Fire; and (9) a rebate program for class members 20 who experienced a Qualifying Failure or Qualifying Fire, lose faith in their Class Vehicle 21 because of the settlement, sell their Class Vehicle, and purchase a replacement Hyundai or 22 Kia (for Hyundai and Kia class members respectively). (Mot. at 18-26.)

23 The settlement is comprehensive in compensating class members for the harms 24 suffered and providing protection against future harms. See Eisen v. Porsche Cars N. Am., 25 No. 11-09405, 2014 WL 439006, at *1, *11 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 30, 2014) (approving class 26 action settlement that provided an extended warranty to class members and permitted for 27 reimbursement for expenses already incurred in repairing auto defect). It is not necessary 28 for the settlement to be the best possible outcome for the settlement to be fair and adequate. See Staton, 327 F.3d at 959 (“[T]he very essence of a settlement is compromise, a yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes” (quotations omitted)). The Court finds that the relief offered in the settlement is reasonable.

The Court notes that the proposed settlement is substantially similar to the settlement that the Court approved in Engine I and finds that the differences between the two settlements do not raise concerns about the reasonableness of the proposed settlement.

E. Stage of the Proceedings and Extent of Discovery Completed

This factor requires the Court to evaluate whether “the parties have sufficient information to make an informed decision about settlement.” Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1239 (9th Cir. 1998). Discovery can be both formal and informal, and “plaintiffs may rely on discovery developed in prior or related proceedings.” See id. at 1239-40; see also Clesceri v. Beach City Investigations & Protective Servs., Inc., No. 10-3873, 2011 WL 320998, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 27, 2011). Co-Lead Counsel and Settlement Counsel investigated the claims prior to filing complaints by engaging an expert to investigate the defect and perform teardown analyses of Class Vehicle engines, reviewing publicly available information and NHTSA complaints, and communicating with hundreds of class members. (Mot. at 39-40; Berman Decl. ¶ 12; Schelkopf Decl. ¶ 12; Cappio Decl. ¶ 7.) Settlement Counsel had the benefit of formal discovery in the Short lawsuit, where Defendants produced thousands of pages of technical and engineering documents, including design, testing, and service bulletin information, as well as voluminous, detailed data on hundreds of thousands of repairs and warranty claims, including diagnostic information and comments from the technicians who worked on class members’ vehicles. Counsel and their highly qualified experts reviewed these documents and data closely, and both engineering and economic experts provided counsel with detailed reports based on this discovery.

(Mot. at 39-40; Cappio Decl. ¶ 8.)

1        Given these facts, the Court concludes that the parties possess enough information 2 to make an informed settlement decision. Accordingly, this factor weighs in favor of 3 granting preliminary approval.

 5        F.     Experience and Views of Counsel

6        “Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to 7 produce a settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.” In re 8 Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995). As a result, representation by 9 competent counsel familiar with the law in the relevant area and with “the strengths and 10 weaknesses of [the parties’] respective positions[] suggests the reasonableness of the 11 settlement.” In re Immune Response Sec. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1174 (S.D. Cal.
 12 2007). “On the other hand, recognizing the potential conflict of interest between attorneys 13 and the class they represent, the Court should not blindly follow counsel’s 14 recommendations, but give them appropriate weight in light of all factors surrounding the 15 settlement.” Boyd v. Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 622 (N.D. Cal. 1979).

16        As discussed above, Class Counsel are experienced and knowledgeable in this area 17 of the law, and all have endorsed the Settlement Agreement. (See Berman Decl. ¶ 11; 18 Schelkopf Decl. ¶ 11; Cappio Decl. ¶ 15.) More importantly, at this stage the Court does 19 not detect a conflict of interest between Class Counsel and the Class. Accordingly, this 20 factor favors preliminary approval.

21
 22        G.     Reaction of Class Members to Proposed Settlement

23        This factor cannot yet be assessed because the class has not yet been informed of 24 the terms of the proposed settlement. Before the Final Fairness Hearing, Class Counsel are 25 ORDERED to submit a sufficient number of declarations from Class Members discussing 26 their reactions to the Settlement Agreement. A small number of objections at the time of 27
 28

1 the fairness hearing may raise a presumption that the Settlement Agreement is favorable to 2 the Class. See In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043 (N.D. Cal. 2008).

3 4 H. Signs of Collusion

5 The Court finds no signs, explicit or subtle, of collusion between the parties. Of 6 course, before final approval, the court will “scrutinize closely the relationship between 7 attorneys’ fees and benefit to the class” and will not “award[] unreasonably high fees 8 simply because they are uncontested.” In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 948 (quotations 9 omitted). The Court notes that the Settlement Agreement is the result of a mediation held 10 before a private mediator (see Mot. at 15), which is a factor “that supports the argument 11 that [the agreement] is non-collusive.” Lee v. JPMorgan Chase & Co., No. 13-511, 2015 12 WL 12711659, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2015).

13 14 Considering all the factors together, the Court preliminarily concludes that the 15 Settlement Agreement is fair, reasonable, and adequate.

16 17 IV. APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATORS

18 Hyundai plans to self-administer the settlement with the assistance of Sedgwick 19 Claims Management Services, Inc. (“Sedgwick”). (Supp. Br. at 2.) Sedgwick will 20 conduct an initial review of all claims, approving straightforward claims that have the 21 necessary documentation. (Id. at 5.) For claims where there is uncertainty, Hyundai’s 22 consumer assistance department will determine whether the claim should be approved or 23 denied. (Id.) Hyundai’s consumer assistance department will also automatically review 24 high-value claims above a minimum dollar threshold. (Id.) Hyundai points to its 25 successful administration of the Engine I settlement as evidence that it will fairly 26 administer the proposed settlement agreement, and asserts that its expertise and 27 commitment to fostering brand loyalty will ensure efficient and fair settlement 28

1 administration. (Id. at 6-7.) Kia intends to retain Epiq Class Action & Claims Solution, 2 Inc. (“Epiq”) to administer the settlement; Epiq worked with Kia to administer the Engine
 3 I settlement “and will build upon the experience obtained from the Engine I claims 4 administration.” (Id. at 7-8.) Kia has also worked with Class Counsel and Epiq to remedy 5 concerns regarding fire-related claims from Engine I and implemented changes in the 6 proposed settlement agreement to prevent reoccurrence of such issues. (Id. at 9-10.)
 7 Finally, Class Counsel will monitor claims administration: Hyundai and Kia will regularly 8 update Class Counsel regarding notices sent and returned as undeliverable and any 9 determinations of Exceptional Neglect. (Id. at 10.) Whenever Defendants request proof of 10 payment from claimants due to suspicion of fraud, they must also notify Class Counsel.
 11 (Id.) Defendants will provide monthly reports to Class Counsel regarding claims received, 12 each claim’s status, final determinations made, and any claims escalated to arbitration, and 13 Defendants will provide underlying documentation for denied claims upon request so that 14 Class Counsel can evaluate the determination. (Id.)

15 Finding that the parties have adequately shown that the settlement will be 16 administered fairly, competently, efficiently, and impartially, the Court approves this 17 settlement administration arrangement.

18 19 V. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS NOTICE FORM AND METHOD

20
21 For a class certified under Rule 23(b)(3), “the court must direct to class members 22 the best notice that is practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all 23 members who can be identified through reasonable effort.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B).
 24 However, actual notice is not required. See Silber v. Mabon, 18 F.3d 1449, 1454 (9th Cir.
 25 1994).

26 The Settlement Agreement requires Defendants Hyundai and Kia to disseminate 27 notice to the class by mail, email, and the dedicated settlement website no later than the 28 Notice Date. (Settlement Agreement § IV.B.) In order to identify the names and addresses

1 of class members, Defendants or their Settlement Administrators will provide, to the extent 2 it has not yet been done, the names and addresses of Class Vehicle owners, and Class 3 Vehicle VINs, to R.L Polk & Company, or a similar third-party entity, who will be 4 authorized to use that information to obtain the names and current addresses of class 5 members through state agencies. (Id. § IV.C.1.) Where notice is returned as 6 undeliverable, “best efforts” will be used to locate the correct address through an advanced 7 address search using Hyundai’s and Kia’s customer database information. (Id.) For all 8 class members for whom Hyundai and Kia maintain email addresses, Defendants or their 9 Settlement Administrator will provide an email containing a hyperlink to the dedicated 10 settlement website, which will contain electronic versions of the Long Form Notice and 11 Claim Form. (Id. § IV.C.2.) Hyundai and Kia will both maintain settlement websites 12 which will contain:

13 (i) instructions on how to obtain reimbursements; (ii) a 14 mechanism by which Claimants can submit Claims 15 electronically; (iii) instructions on how to contact Defendants or 16 their Settlement Administrators for assistance with their Claims; 17 (iv) the Long Form Notice; (v) the Pamphlet; (vi) the Claim 18 Form; (vii) th[e] Settlement Agreement; (viii) any orders issued 19 in th[e] Action approving or disapproving of the proposed 20 Settlement; and (ix) any other information the Parties determine 21 is relevant to the Settlement.

22 (Id. § IV.C.3.) The websites will also allow visitors to enter their VINs without 23 completing a Claim Form to determine if their vehicles are Class Vehicles. (Id.)

24 Within 120 days of the Final Approval Date, Defendants or their Settlement 25 Administrators will disseminate by mail and by email a copy of the company’s Pamphlet 26 to all reasonably identifiable class members who are current owners of Class Vehicles.
 27 (Id. § IV.E.1-2.) These Pamphlets will also be provided to Hyundai and Kia’s authorized 28 dealerships within two weeks of the Final Approval Date with instructions to disseminate (1) the Pamphlet to anyone presenting a Class Vehicle for maintenance or service of any kind and (2) information regarding Hyundai and Kia’s product improvement campaigns,

1 including about the free KSDS update. (Id. § IV.E.3.) Hyundai will end claims 2 administration no earlier than December 31, 2036, and Kia will end claims administration
 3 no earlier than December 31, 2035. (Id. § III.A.1.)

4 The Supreme Court has found notice by mail to be sufficient if the notice is 5 “reasonably calculated . . . to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and 6 afford them an opportunity to present their objections.” Mullane v. Cent. Hanover Bank &
 7 Tr. Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950). The Court finds that the proposed procedure for class 8 notice satisfies this standard.

9 Under Rule 23, the notice must include, in a manner that is understandable to 10 potential class members: “(i) the nature of the action; (ii) the definition of the class 11 certified; (iii) the class claims, issues, or defenses; (iv) that a class member may enter an 12 appearance through an attorney if the member so desires; (v) that the court will exclude 13 from the class any member who requests exclusion; (vi) the time and manner for 14 requesting exclusion; and (vii) the binding effect of a class judgment on members under 15 Rule 23(c)(3).” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). Plaintiff provided the Court with copies of 16 the proposed Notices, which include this necessary information.

17 Beyond notice to Class Members, the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 (“CAFA”) 18 requires that certain government authorities receive notice of any class action settled in 19 federal court. See 28 U.S.C. § 1715(b). Defendants filed a Notice of Compliance with 28
 20 U.S.C. § 1715 on October 18, 2022. (Notice, Doc. 83; see also Fiereck Decl., Doc. 83-1.)

21 22 VI. CONCLUSION

23 24 For the reasons discussed above, the Court (1) conditionally certifies the class for 25 settlement purposes only; (2) preliminarily approves the settlement agreement; (3) names 26 Leslie Flaherty, Joanna Caballero, James Carpenter, Sharon Moon, Stanton Vignes, Kesha 27 Franklin Marbury, Christina Roos, James J. Martino, James H. Palmer, John H. Caro, 28 Ashley Gagas, Nicole Thornhill, Janet O’Brien, Robert Buettner, Linda Short, James

1 Twigger, Jennifer and Anthony DiPardo, Seane Ronfeldt, Gabrielle Alexander, Tavish
 2 Carduff, Brian Frazier, Chad Perry, William Pressley, and Jeannett Smith as Class 3 Representatives; (4) appoints Matthew D. Schelkopf of Sauder Schelkopf and Steve W.
 4 Berman of Sobol Shapiro LLP as co-Lead Counsel, and Gretchen Freeman Cappio of 5 Keller Rohrback LLP as Settlement Counsel; and (5) approves the form and method of the 6 Class Notice.

7 The Court sets a Final Fairness Hearing for September 8, 2023 at 10:30 a.m.<sup>7</sup>

8 Defendants must cause individual notice to be mailed via first-class mail to all 9 reasonably identifiable Class members by June 7, 2023. For purposes of identifying 10 current and former owners and lessees of Class Vehicles, R.L. Polk & Company or a 11 similar third-party entity is hereby authorized to provide the names and most current 12 addresses of such owners and lessees to Hyundai and/or Kia or their designee(s). Any 13 governmental agency in possession of names or addresses of current and former Class 14 Vehicle owners or lessees is hereby authorized and directed to release that information to 15 R.L. Polk & Company, or a similar third-party entity, upon request.

16 Class members must opt-out or make any objections to the proposed settlement on 17 or before August 7, 2023.

18 The parties shall submit motions for final approval, as well as declarations from 19 class members regarding their reactions to the proposed settlement, no later than July 7, 20 2023. A supplemental brief addressing any objections and summarizing settlement 21 administration to date shall be filed no later than August 25, 2023. The parties should also 22 notify the Court at that time whether any class members intend to appear at the Final 23 Fairness Hearing.

24 Co-Lead and Settlement Counsel shall file a joint motion for attorneys' fees and 25 expenses, and any service awards no later than July 7, 2023. Defendants shall file any 26

27 <sup>7</sup> The Court reserves the right to continue the date of the Final Fairness Hearing without 28 further notice to Class Members.

1 response seven days thereafter, and any reply by Plaintiff must be filed within seven days
2 of Defendants' response.
